for KORAH

Christmas
2023 CATALOGUE

Welcome to the Hope for Korah Christmas Catalogue

The Christmas season is a joyous time of hope and great anticipation. But we are also painfully aware of the numerous devastating conflicts, the great never-ending suffering, the hunger, and the inhumane conditions that are existing throughout our world.

Korah, Ethiopia is one such place. Here many families are struggling daily to meet their most basic needs. Longing to break out of the ever-present trauma of poverty; not having enough to eat, limited education and health care, rising inflation and unacceptable living conditions.

We hope therefore, as you browse through this Christmas gift catalogue that you will think of the parents, children and elders of Korah who will greatly benefit from any of your purchases, and how your actions can have a truly life-changing effect on their struggles. Much has already been accomplished for the better in Korah, but the need is endless, and we look forward to faithfully continuing our work there with your much needed assistance.

We thank you for caring.
Warmest Christmas Greetings,

Eve Pohl

Eve Pohl R.S.W.
Founder/Executive Director - Hope for Korah

Hope for Korah is committed to serving and empowering the people of Korah, an urban district located by the city garbage dump in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. Using a holistic approach, we seek to act towards breaking the cycle of urban poverty through the love and compassion of Christ; offering hope and a future so that families can come to know their inherent worth, meet their full potential, live with dignity and become self-reliant.

Mosa's Story: Fully Investing in the Lives of Others

Mosa cares for Zeleke who is blind and lives at HFK's Elders' Home.

This is a story about Mosa, one of our most beloved staff members who began with HFK as a teenager in our programs. From a young age, Mosa took on many household responsibilities, engaging him in the emotional and economic burdens of his family's daily life. Before entering the Family Empowerment Program, life was hard. Food was extremely scarce; most days the family had just one meal in the morning before the children left for school. Being illiterate, Mosa's mother Tejitu worked hard, earning what she could through begging, spinning cotton, and making baskets to support her four children. At the time she was bringing in 300 birr per month ($18 CAD) - not nearly enough to meet the family's needs.

During this time, Mosa was one of many community kids who was highly involved in HFK's youth programs. His persistence was a major catalyst in changing the trajectory of his family's life; concerned for his family's livelihood, Mosa had patiently approached HFK's leadership staff continuously over the course of a year, asking for a leader to come visit their home. When there was finally space for the family to begin, they wasted no time taking advantage of every opportunity. The children's nutrition improved through the Berta Breakfast Program, and each family member has received education, health care, and mentorship. They have built community, life skills, confidence, and long-lasting relationships. Mosa's youngest sister is excelling in private school, and his brothers are both highly involved in gymnastics, with one of them even performing in Turkey this year. Tejitu honed her basket weaving skills and is now a successful weaver with HFK's Independent Artisan's Cooperative. Together, this family is breaking the cycle of poverty.

Through HFK, Mosa finished high school, then completed his certification in building installation. While in school, Mosa had built such a great rapport with the Elders during his hours volunteering, that he was offered a caregiver position in 2021. Since that time, he continues to demonstrate his exceptional character - cooperative, engaging, and hardworking. We mean it when we say that Mosa is dedicated to serving; when he's not on his care-giving shift, he can be found at nearly every event and program area, taking initiative to support and care for youth and adults alike. This young man's whole heart and soul is invested in what he does.

Mosa's is not just a success story; it exemplifies how gifts from this catalogue provide an impact that extends far beyond a meal, an education, or a training; these gifts cultivate growth, empowerment, and relationships that are transforming an entire community. As you choose a gift from this catalogue, may you revel in the simple truth that small acts of love can have a forever impact.

Mosa loves his mother and is so proud of her.
